

THE CONFERENCE ON LATIN AMERICAN HISTORY

in affiliation with
*The American Historical Association

Program of CLAH Activities and Latin American Sessions

2018 Annual Meeting
Washington
January 4-7

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

General Committee Meeting:

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 6:00 PM-8:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Park Tower 8216

CLAH Luncheon:

Friday, January 5, 2018: 12:00 PM-1:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Marriott Ballroom, Salon 1

CLAH Cocktail Party:

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 7:30 PM-9:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

CLAH OFFICERS

Executive Committee:

President:	Lara Putnam
Vice President:	Bianca Premo
Past President:	Jerry Dávila
Executive Secretaries:	Jurgen Buchenau and Erika Edwards

General Committee:

Elected Members:	Peter Guardino (2016-2017)
	Barbara Weinstein (2016-2017)
	Lillian Guerra (2017-2018)
	Matthew O'Hara (2017-2018)

Ex-Officio Members:

HAHR Editors:	Martha Few
	Matthew Restall
	Amara Solari
	Zachary Morgan
The Americas Editor:	Ben Vinson III
H-LatAm Editors:	John F. Schwaller

2016 Program Committee:

Erika Edwards, Chair
Monica Rankin (2018 Chair)
Roger Kittleson

CLAH Events and AHA Latin America Sessions

CLAH Information Table Hours:

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 12:30 PM-5:30 PM

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:00 AM-11:30 AM,

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:00 AM-11:00 AM,
Marriott Wardman Park, Registration A

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4

1. Spatial History in Border Regions of Modern Latin America

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Maria de los Angeles Picone, Emory University

Economy and Rebellion between Argentina and Chile, 1850s–60s

Kyle E. Harvey, Cornell University

Hunters, Rangers, Cougars, and Jaguars: Human and Nonhuman Territories at the Argentine-Brazilian Border, 1960s–80s

Frederico Freitas, North Carolina State University

Crude Geographies and Slippery Borders: Mexican Oil Workers in Texas

Sarah Stanford-McIntyre, College of William and Mary

Planes, Trains, Automobiles (and a Canal): Dreaming of Mobility in the Borderlands of Amazonia and the Gran Chaco

Benjamin Nobbs-Thiessen, Arizona State University

Comment: Ryan Edwards, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

2. Kinship, Ethnicity, and the Law in the Iberian World

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Brian P. Owensby, University of Virginia

Kinship, Ethnicity, and the Development of Many Indio Categories in Spanish Legal Practice

Laurent Corbeil, Carleton University

Redeeming Pardos and Pretos: Constructing Race through Devotion to Saint Benedict and Saint Gonçalo Garcia in 18th-Century Brazil

Caroline Garriott, Duke University

Illnesses Known and Hidden: Health Status and Slaves' Legal Agency in 18th-Century Colombia

Brandi M. Waters, Yale University

Privilege without Purity? Family Ties across Time, Region, and Race in the Global Spanish Empire

Norah L. A. Gharala, Georgian Court University

Comment: Robert C. Schwaller, University of Kansas

3. Crossing Borders in Latin American History: "Pioneer" Women Historians and Their Stories

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall East

Chair: Mieko Nishida, Hartwick College

Crossing Borders, Tearing Down Walls

Peggy K. Liss, Washington, DC

How a High School Spanish Teacher Became a Historian of the Llanos Orientales of Colombia

Jane M. Rausch, University of Massachusetts Amherst

From Historian of 17th-Century Mexico to Cyber Security Expert: A Tale of Two Careers

Louisa S. Hoberman, State of Texas Agencies

Comment: Mieko Nishida, Hartwick College

4. Cultural Diplomacy, Science, and Brazil-US Relations, 1930s–50s (joint with AHA)

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite A

Chair: Gilberto Hochman, Fundação Oswaldo Cruz

War, Science, and Cultural Diplomacy in the Americas: Frank Wilson and Brazilian Cardiology

Simone Kropf, Fundação Oswaldo Cruz

Joel D. Howell, University of Michigan

Good Neighbor Cultural Diplomacy in World War II: The Art of Making Friends

Darlene J. Sadlier, Indiana University

On the History of the Relations between Brazilian and American Physics

Olival Freire Jr., Universidade Federal da Bahia

Indianara Silva, Universidade Federal de Feira de Santana

Cold War, Rockefeller Philanthropy, and Medical Education in Brazil during the 1950s

Gilberto Hochman, Fundação Oswaldo Cruz

Comment: Seth Garfield, University of Texas at Austin

5. Final Passages, Part 1: New Perspectives on the Intra-American Slave Trading Routes (joint with AHA)

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Roosevelt Room 2

Chair: Elena Schneider, University of California, Berkeley

The Muddle in the Middle Passage: Intra-American Slave Routes of the Early South Atlantic

Kara Schultz, Vanderbilt University

From Curaçao to Veracruz: Slavery, Commerce, and Controversy in the 1680s

Pablo Miguel Sierra Silva, University of Rochester

The Intra-American Slave Trade to Cuba, 1790–1808

Jorge Felipe, Michigan State University

Comment: Linda M. Rupert, University of North Carolina at Greensboro

6. What Is the African Diaspora in a “Post-racial Society”? The Case of 19th- and 20th-Century Mexico (joint with AHA)

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite B

Chair: Ben Vinson III, George Washington University

The Rhetoric and Reality of Race: Representations of African Descendants in 19th-Century Mexican National Discourse

Beau Gaitors, Winston-Salem State University

The Geography of Race in 19th-Century Mexico: Capitalism, Culture, and Language

John Milstead, Michigan State University

Harlem, Slavery, and Mexico’s Radical Tradition in the 1930s

Theodore Cohen, Lindenwood University

Comment: Raymond Craib, Cornell University

7. Moral Limits: Inequality in Ethics in the Atlantic Human Sciences, 20th Century

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Micah Oelze, Florida International University

Ethics and the Rhetoric of Friendship in the Yale Peruvian Expedition

Adam W. V. Warren, University of Washington

From Classroom to Confiscation: The Mandate to “Collect Everything” in 1930s Brazilian Ethnography

Micah Oelze, Florida International University

Framing Deep Pasts: Atavisms, Retrogressions, and Race Science in the Making of Neuroscientific and Genetic Medicine, c. 1880–1980

Stephen T. Casper, Clarkson University

Comment: Julia E. Rodriguez, University of New Hampshire

8. Social Control, Violence, and Religion in the Caribbean and Central America

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Elaine P. Rocha, University of the West Indies at Cave Hill

Poor Millie! Violence against Women, Poverty, and Migration in the West Indies

Elaine P. Rocha, University of the West Indies at Cave Hill

“The Better Government of Slaves”: Amelioration and the Trials of Planters for Abuse in Jamaica, 1788–1834

Michael Becker, Duke University

Religion, Community, and Politics during Guatemala’s Cold War

Bonar Hernández, Iowa State University

Sandinista Ghosts on Two Coasts: State Formation, Memory, and Oral History in Two Nicaraguan Cities, 1979–2015

Shannon James, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Comment: The Audience

CLAH General Committee Meeting

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 6:00 PM-8:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Park Tower 8216

9. Final Passages, Part 2: New Perspectives on the Intra-American Slave Trading Routes (joint with AHA)

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Roosevelt Room 2

Chair: Linda M. Rupert, University of North Carolina at Greensboro

The Interprovincial Slave Trade from Rio De Janeiro, 1809–33: An Analysis of the IPEA Database

Daniel B. Domingues da Silva, Rice University

Trouble the Water: The Baltimore to New Orleans Coastal Slave Trade

Jennie Williams, Johns Hopkins University

Final Passages: The Intra-American Slave Trade Database

Alex Borucki, University of California, Irvine

Gregory E. O'Malley, University of California, Santa Cruz

Comment: Ana Lucia Araujo, Howard University

10. The Latin American Middle Classes: An Interdisciplinary Approach (joint with AHA)

Thursday, January 4, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Roosevelt Room 1

Chair: Abel Ricardo Lopez, Western Washington University

Panel:

Ezequiel Adamovsky, University of Buenos Aires

Elizabeth Q. Hutchison, University of New Mexico

Abel Ricardo Lopez, Western Washington University

Sergio Visacovsky, Consejo Nacional de Investigaciones Cientificas y Técnicas

Celso Villegas, Kenyon College

CLAH Information Table

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:00 AM-11:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Registration A

11. Rethinking the Legal Profession in the Colonial Andes

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Susan E. Ramirez, Texas Christian University

Strategies for Success: A Notary and His Social Network in Colonial Lima, 1569–1619

Miguel León, State University of New York, Oneonta

Justice by Artifacts and Transparencias: Scribes and Their Material Culture in 17th- and 18th-Century Peru and Chile

Aude Argouse, Universidad de Chile

Three Andean Cities and Their Representatives in Late 18th-Century Spain

Alvaro Caso-Bello, Johns Hopkins University

Provincial Lawyers in Northern 16th-Century Peru

Renzo Honores, Instituto Internacional de Derecho y Sociedad

Comment: Susan E. Ramirez, Texas Christian University

12. Remembering the Eastern Andean Imperial Frontier: Exploration, Consolidation, and Identity in Colonial Spanish Charcas

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Kimberly A. Gauderman, University of New Mexico

Before Charcas: The Limits of European Authority in the Diego de Almagro Expedition
Danielle Anthony, Ohio State University

Francisco de Vitoria on the Charcas Frontier: The Juridical Basis for the Conquest and Enslavement of “the Chiriguanaes,” 1568–74
Jonathan Scholl, Ransom Everglades School

En Esta Quieta y Pacífica Posesión: Preserving Pardo Community and Autonomy in the Eastern Andes
Nathan Weaver Olson, University of Minnesota

Refracted Processes of Ethnogenesis: Identity Formation in the Imperial Borderlands of the Greater Paraguayan River Basin
Justin Blaine Blanton, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Comment: Kimberly A. Gauderman, University of New Mexico

13. Postslavery Lives around the Caribbean: Social Control, Representation, and the Possibilities of Narration (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite A

Chair: Anne Eller, Yale University

Black Autobiography and Imperial Disruption in Post-emancipation Jamaica
Christienna Fryar, University of Liverpool

Owning Freedom: State Recordkeeping and the Politics of Historical Representation in 19th-Century Haiti
Winter Rae Schneider, University of California, Los Angeles

“Each Following His Own Destiny”: The Formation of the “African Battalion” in Unification-Era Santo Domingo
Andrew Walker, University of Michigan

Comment: The Audience

14. Cuba in a Revolutionary World, 1940s–60s (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Delaware Suite B

Chair: Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

From Havana to Belgrade and Back Again: Revolutionary Cuba Joins the Third World
Eric Gettig, Georgetown University

Cuba’s Transnational Left-Feminist Networks from Postwar to Cold War
Michelle Chase, Pace University

An Island of Antifascism: Cubans and the Transnational Struggle against Caribbean Basin Dictatorships, 1944–58
Aaron Coy Moulton, Stephen F. Austin State University

Comment: Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

15. Family, Household, Community, and the Court: Extending and Defying Domestic Male Authority in Colonial Latin America (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Roosevelt Room 1

Chair: Kathryn Burns, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Patria Potestad in Transit: Legal Power and Family Mobility in 16th-Century Peru
Jane Mangan, Davidson College

Lo Extrajudicial: The Space between Court and Casa in the Spanish Empire
Bianca Premo, Florida International University

A Fragile Authority: Black Mothers and Domestic Partners in Colonial Minas Gerais
Mariana L. Dantas, Ohio University

Comment: Sherwin K. Bryant, Northwestern University

16. Historical Thinking and the Survey Course: Sources, Strategies, Assessments, and Best Practices in the United States, Latin America, and World Surveys (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Delaware Suite A

Chair: Oscar Cañedo, Grossmont College

On the Voyage to California: Using Literature to Interpret the Gold Rush
Oscar Cañedo, Grossmont College

Revolution, Oil, NAFTA, and "El Chapo": A History of US-Mexico Relations in the 20th and 21st Centuries
Carlos Contreras, Grossmont College

Globalizing the Heartland: Bringing a Transnational Focus to Midwestern History in the US Survey Classroom
Timothy Dean Draper, Waubensee Community College

From Juan Rodríguez Cabrillo to Norman Asing: Incorporating the "Pacific World" into the Early US History Survey
Amy Godfrey Powers, Waubensee Community College

Race, Culture, and "Pigmentocracy": Relating 18th-Century Race to Present Historical Studies in the Classroom
Natalye Harpin, Southwestern College, University of California, San Diego, and Grossmont College

Lessons under the Bridge: Chicano Park as Critical Spatial History
Monica Hernandez, Grossmont College

Comment: The Audience

17. Spain, Latin America, and the Transatlantic Cold War

Friday, January 5, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite B

Chair: Ernesto Semán, University of Richmond

Defining Cuban Antifascism, 1925–41
Ariel Mae Lambe, University of Connecticut

The Transatlantic Making of Rubén Darío as the Embodiment of Franco's Hispanidad: Commemorating October 12 in Spain and Nicaragua, 1939–55
Susy Sanchez, independent scholar

Francoist Spain's Spiritual Quest and Argentine Authoritarianism during the Cold War
Daniel Kressel, Columbia University

Comment: Christy Thornton, Harvard University

18. The Cacicas of Colonial Latin America

Friday, January 5, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Margarita R. Ochoa, Loyola Marymount University

The Cacicas of Teotihuacan: Early Colonial Changes to Local Rule

Bradley T. Benton, North Dakota State University

Papers, Property, and Posterity: The Estate Records of Nahua Noblewomen in Coyoacan and Xochimilco, New Spain

Richard Conway, Montclair State University

The Cacicas of Mexico City: Indigenous Leadership under Bourbon Rule

Margarita R. Ochoa, Loyola Marymount University

“Por los Derechos de Su Persona y Sangre”: Cacicas in Colonial Peru

Sara Guengarich, Texas Technological University

Comment: David T. Garrett, Reed College

19. Public Health and Education in the Andes and Caribbean

Friday, January 5, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Ana María Otero-Cleves, Universidad de los Andes

“An Amiable and Familiar Affair”: Selling Pills, Toiletries, and Foreign Medicines to the Colombian Market, 1860–1920

Ana María Otero-Cleves, Universidad de los Andes

“Los Dibujos de Psicópatas”: Honorio Delgado and the Reception of Psychoanalysis in Lima, Peru, 1915–40

Cameron Lothrop Johnson, University of California, Davis

Yo Sí Puedo’s Prologue: Reconsidering Narratives of the Cuban Literacy Campaign of 1961

Ann E Halbert-Brooks, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Comment: The Audience

20. The Abolitionist Movement in Brazil: New Approaches

Friday, January 5, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Seymour Drescher, University of Pittsburgh

The Role of Afro-Brazilian Mobilization in Rio de Janeiro’s Abolitionist Movement

Jeffrey D. Needell, University of Florida

Flowers, Ballots, and Bullets: The Brazilian Abolitionist Movement

Angela Alonso, University of São Paulo

“Slavery Is Not an Issue of Concern in the Press”: An Early Brazilian Adaptation of Uncle Tom’s Cabin and the Literary Turn in the Slavery Debates

Celso Castilho, Vanderbilt University

Comment: Seymour Drescher, University of Pittsburgh

CLAH Luncheon

Friday, January 5, 2018: 12:00 PM-1:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Marriott Ballroom, Salon 1

21. Scandalous Behavior in Colonial Latin America: Agency, Crime, and Punishment in Criminal and Inquisition Files

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Martha Few, Penn State University

Scribal Seductions: Streetwalkers and Nightwatchman in 1790s Mexico City
Nicole von Germeten, Oregon State University

Toleration without Tolerance: Negotiating Illicit Sex in Bourbon Quito
Chad T. Black, University of Tennessee at Knoxville

Defining Boundaries of Communal Behavior: Unruly Women in 18th-Century Mexico
Elizabeth Gonzalez Jimenez, University of Miami

22. Envisioning the Nation: Mexico and the World, 1900–50

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Barry Carr, La Trobe University

Advertising Modern Mexico: Beer, Race, and Economic Development in Mid-20th-Century Mexico
Susan Gauss, University of Massachusetts Boston

Diego Rivera's Trotskyist Sojourn
John Lear, University of Puget Sound

Trotsky in Mexico: Artists United, Artists Divided, 1930–40
Stephanie J. Smith, Ohio State University

Alternative Visions: Official Masculine Mexicanidad vs. Unofficial Feminine Ambiente in Mexican Nation-Building, 1925–45
Ryan Jones, State University of New York, College at Geneseo

Comment: Barry Carr, La Trobe University

23. Piracy, Imperial Expansion, and the Making of the Modern World: New Perspectives from the Atlantic and Beyond

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Jesse Cromwell, University of Mississippi

St. Augustine's Paradox: The Rhetoric of Piracy in Critiques of Anglophone Encroachment in Spanish Territories, 1700–1900
Mark G. Hanna, University of California, San Diego

An Underappreciated Working-Class Vector of Early Modern Globalization: Sailors' and Maritime Predators' Information Highways
Fabio López Lázaro, University of Hawai'i at Manoa

Fighting Moros, Forging Empire: Catholic Anti-piracy in Spain's Asian Empire, 1749–62
Kristie Patricia Flannery, University of Texas at Austin

Comment: Jesse Cromwell, University of Mississippi

24. 1968 Mexico City Olympics (joint with AHA Committee on Minority Historians)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite C

Panel:

Eric Zolov, State University of New York at Stony Brook
Jurgen Buchenau, University of North Carolina at Charlotte
Amy Bass, College of New Rochelle

25. Connections and Their Consequences: Cuba, West Africa, and Spain Resisting and Adapting to Change (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Delaware Suite A

Chair: Luis Martinez-Fernandez, University of Central Florida

The Foundation of Slave-Trading Networks between Cuba and Upper Guinea, 1808–20
Jorge Felipe Gonzalez, Michigan State University

“The Blood of Thousands”: Fighting Disease on Factories and Barracoons in the Illegal Slave Trade, 1820–67
Manuel Barcia, University of Leeds

The Human Consequences of the Illegal Slave Trade in Western Cuba, 1835–50
William C. Van Norman, James Madison University

Spain in West Africa after the Transatlantic Slave Trade, 1860s–90s
Adriana Chira, Emory University

Comment: Matt D. Childs, University of South Carolina

26. Resistant and Receptive, Insiders and Outsiders: Native Peoples and the Making of Early Modern Indigenous Sovereignty, Colonial Subjects, and Slaves (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite B

Chair: M. Kittiya Lee, California State University, Los Angeles

Bounding Iroquoia: Early Modern Cartography and Indigenous Nationhood
Scott Manning Stevens, Syracuse University

Tupi or Not Tupi? The Indian Par Excellence in Early Modern Eastern South America
M. Kittiya Lee, California State University, Los Angeles

The Making of the Indigenous Subject and Colonial Ideology in Rio de la Plata and Canada
Dot Tuer, OCAD University

Indigenous Slavery from Out on the Edge
Nancy E. van Deusen, Queen's University

Comment: The Audience

27. Ways of Seeing, Shaping, and Documenting Subjects under Postcolonial Conflicts (joint with AHA)

Friday, January 5, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland Suite A

Chair: P. Michael Rattanasengchanh, Ohio University

Performance-Based Shape Shifters: Underground Resistance Theater in Argentina during the Cold War
Katherine Kelaidis, National Hellenic Museum

When Photos Lie to You: Visual Depictions of Needs-Based Aid among the Displaced in Postcolonial Vietnam.
Jennifer Way, University of North Texas

Murder, Museums, and Memory Holes: Cold War Public History in Jakarta, Ho Chi Minh City, and Phnom Penh
Michael G. Vann, California State University, Sacramento

Comment: Mustafah Dhada, California State University, Bakersfield

The Americas Editorial Board Meeting

Friday, January 5, 2018: 5:30 PM-7:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Park Tower 8216

28. Caribbean Studies Committee Meeting: Flight, Migration, and Borders in the Caribbean from Carib Expansion to 21st-Century Diasporas

Friday, January 5, 2018: 5:30 PM-7:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taft Room

Chair: Nicole Maskiell, University of South Carolina

Speaker(s):

Linda M. Rupert, University of North Carolina at Greensboro
Jeppe Mulich, London School of Economics and Political Science
Matt D. Childs, University of South Carolina
Monique Bedasse, Washington University in St. Louis

Comment: The Audience

29. Central American Studies Committee Meeting: The Problem of Modernity in Central America

Friday, January 5, 2018: 5:30 PM-7:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taylor Room

Chair: Julie Gibbings, University of Manitoba

Speaker(s):

Jim R. Handy, University of Saskatchewan
Kevin P. Coleman, University of Toronto
Michael Kirkpatrick, Memorial University
Alejandra Boza Villarreal, Universidad de Costa Rica
Michel Gobat, University of Pittsburgh
Barbara Weinstein, New York University

30. Colonial Studies Committee Meeting: Beyond the Archival Divide: A Roundtable on Methods, Perspectives, and Experiences from Colonial Latin American Archives

Friday, January 5, 2018: 5:30 PM-7:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Truman Room

Chair: Ryan Kshanipour, Northern Arizona University

Speaker(s):

Chelsea Berry, Georgetown University
Alex Borucki, University of California, Irvine
Mackenzie Anne Cooley, Stanford University
Martha Few, Penn State University
Jay Harrison, Hood College
Alex Hidalgo, Texas Christian University

31. Teaching and Teaching Materials Committee Meeting: The Changing Narrative Arc of History: Workshopping Assignments That Link History to the Present

Friday, January 5, 2018: 5:30 PM-7:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Tyler Room

Chair: Elena Albarrán, Miami University Ohio

Speaker(s):

Robert Francis Alegre, University of New England
Sarah Sarzynski, Claremont McKenna College

Comment: John Schwaller, State University of New York, University at Albany

The H-LTAM Syllabus Prize will be announced during this session

32. Brazilian Studies Committee Meeting: Social Movements: Approaches, Debates, and Memory

Friday, January 5, 2018: 7:15 PM-8:45 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taft Room

Chair: Celso Castilho, Vanderbilt University

Reparations for Slavery and the Slave Trade in Brazil from a Transnational and Comparative Perspective
Ana Lucia Araujo, Howard University

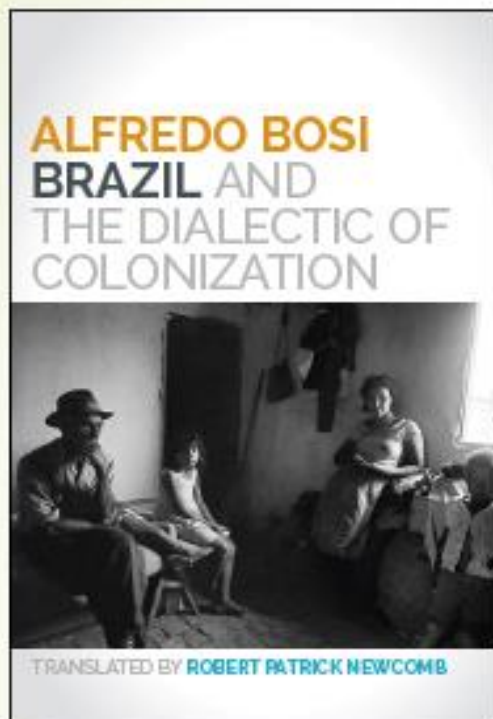

The Transnational History of Brazilian Feminism
Katherine Marino, Ohio State University

Remembering 1798: Nationalist Memory and Social Movements in Bahia, Brazil
Gregory Childs, Brandeis University

Comment: Angela Alonso, University of São Paulo

NEW IN TRANSLATION

in the Lemann Institute for
Brazilian Studies Series

Brazil and the Dialectic of Colonization

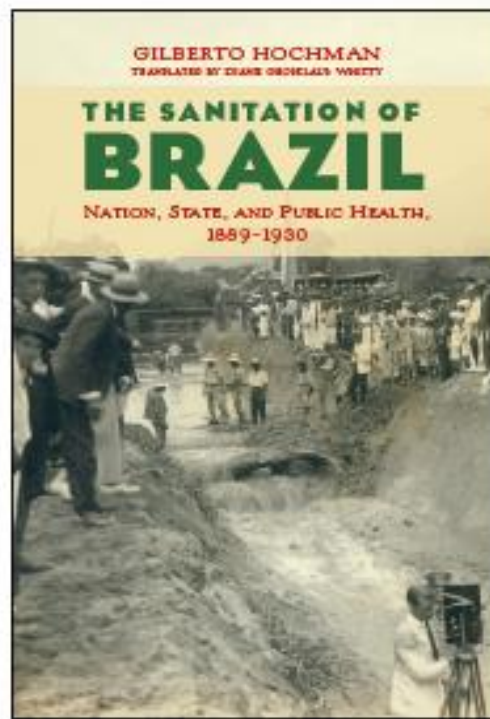

ALFREDO BOSI

Translated by Robert Patrick Newcomb

"The dialectical processes Bosi describes help one understand both the context and contours of the passage from premodern to modern—mechanisms that remain operative in countries that, like Brazil, experienced an extended colonial period of development. Recommended."—Choice 392 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 22 black & white photographs. 2015.

Paperback 978-0-252-08084-5 | E-book 978-0-252-09735-5.

Funds for the publication of this translation were provided by the Lemann Institute for Brazilian Studies, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and by the Ministerio da Cultura do Brasil / Fundação Biblioteca Nacional.

The Sanitation of Brazil

Nation, State, and Public Health, 1889-1930

GILBERTO HOCHMAN

Translated by Diane Groszklaus Whitty

Celebrated as a major work since its original publication, The Sanitation of Brazil traces how rural health and sanitation policies influenced the formation of Brazil's national public health system. The book shows how disease and health were and are associated with nation-state building in Brazil.

232 pp. 6 x 9.5 tables. 2016.
Paperback 978-0-252-08211-5 | E-book 978-0-252-09905-2

Funds for the publication of this translation were provided by the Lemann Institute for Brazilian Studies, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and by the Ministerio da Cultura do Brasil / Fundação Biblioteca Nacional.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

www.press.uillinois.edu

33. Chile-Río de la Plata Studies Committee Meeting: The Crafting and Molding of Race in a “White” Nation

Friday, January 5, 2018: 7:15 PM-8:45 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taylor Room

Chair: Erika Edwards, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Forgotten Figures: Indigenous Contributions to Nation-State Formation in the Río de la Plata
Christine Mathias, King's College London

Savage Royalism: Chilean Depictions of Mapuche, Spaniards, and Women during the Wars of Independence
Sarah C. Chambers, University of Minnesota

Race and Nation in 20th-Century Argentina: Past, Present, and Future Research Directions
Eduardo D. Elena, University of Miami

Indigenous Beverage, Mainstay of the Gaucho Diet, and Hip Social Activity: Yerba Mate, a Racialized Commodity in Argentina
Julia Sarreal, Arizona State University

Between the Lof and the Libertadores: The Mapuche and Chilean Independence
Jesse Zarley, Macalester College

Comment: Jennifer Adair, Fairfield University

34. Gran Colombia Studies Committee Meeting: New Directions on Politics and Society in Pre- and Post-Gran Colombia: From the Public Sphere to Caribbean Tourism

Friday, January 5, 2018: 7:15 PM-8:45 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Truman Room

Chair: Sharika D. Crawford, US Naval Academy

Literacy, Rumors, and the Public Sphere in Venezuela during the Age of Revolutions
Cristina Soriano, Villanova University

French Geodesic Science, the Liberal Revolution, and Indigenous Resistance in Ecuador: The Shuyu Incident
Ernesto Capello, Macalester College

Christian Missions in the Borderlands: New Perspectives from Tierradentro, Colombia, 1900–50
Alejandra Boza, University of Costa Rica

Roots and Routes: Panama's Role in the History of Caribbean Tourism
Blake Scott, University of Texas at Austin

Comment: Nancy P. Appelbaum, Binghamton University, State University of New York

CLAH Information Table

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:00 AM-11:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Registration A

35. Transnational Mexico: Shifting Subjecthood in the Global 1960s and 1970s

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Ernesto Capello, Macalester College

Carlos Fuentes, Richard Goodwin, and the Alliance for Progress Debate That Never Happened
Eric Zolov, State University of New York at Stony Brook

From the Unbelievable to the Impossible: The 1971 World Championships of Women's Football
Brenda J. Elsey, Hofstra University

Urban Geographies of Transnational Activism: Solidarity with Chile in Cold War Mexico City
Jessica Stites Mor, University of British Columbia

Liberators or Dissidents? Barbados I, Anthropologists, and Indigenous Rights
María L.O. Muñoz, Susquehanna University

Comment: Barry Carr, La Trobe University

36. The Global, the Local, the Diasporic, and the In-Between: Puerto Rican History through Different Lenses

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Blanca G. Silvestrini, University of Connecticut at Storrs

To Join the Concert of Advanced Nations: The Global Aspirations of Puerto Rico's Obreros Ilustrados, 1897–1915
Jorell Meléndez-Badillo, University of Connecticut at Storrs

The Street Children of Puerto Rico, 1940–65
Solsiree del Moral, Amherst College

"Little Things Are Big": Jesus Colon, Race, and the Transnational Ghosts of the Puerto Rican Left
Carlos Alamo-Pastrana, Vassar College

White, Black, Brown: Racial Formation in the Puerto Rican Diaspora, 1950–80
Michael Staudenmaier, Aurora University

Comment: Eileen J. Findlay, American University

37. The Environmental Axis of Identity Formation: Race, Labor, and Landscape in the Americas, 19th and 20th Centuries (joint with the AHA and the Agricultural History Society)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 10

Chair: Mart Stewart, Western Washington University

A Waterborne Frontier: Survival, Mobility, and Power on the Hydroscaapes of Colonial Brazil, 1750–1835
Mary Hicks, Amherst College

"Black in the Flogging Tree": Landscape Change and Racial Identities in Amazonia, 1850–2005
Oscar De la Torre, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Erosion and Erasure: Race and Landscape in South Carolina's Cotton-to-Pine Transition
James Giesen, Mississippi State University

How Brazil's 1970s–80s Biofuel Program Turned Rural Workers into a Cold Lunch
Thomas D. Rogers, Emory University

Comment: Mart Stewart, Western Washington University

38. Digital Colonial Latin America: Experiments in Research, Teaching, and Narrative (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Omni Shoreham, Hampton Room

Chair: Alida Metcalf, Rice University

Panel:
Jeffrey Erbig, University of California, Santa Cruz
Jane Mangan, Davidson College

Bianca Premo, Florida International University
Yanna P. Yannakakis, Emory University

39. The Logistics of Drug Trafficking in the Americas: Mobility, Space, Nation, and Race (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 8:30 AM-10:00 AM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 8

Chair: Elaine Carey, Purdue University Northwest

Drug Smuggling, the Singularity, and Automated Borders
Andrae Marak, Governors State University

Infrastructures of Desire: Transport Mobilities and Immobilities in the Mexican Drug Trade during the 20th Century
Michael Kirkland Bess, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas

Infrastructure, Regional Development, and Internal Displacement in Mexico
Ariana Angeles Garcia, Centro de Investigación y Docencia in Mexico

Trains, Planes, Automobiles: Transnational Drug Distribution Networks in the Americas
Elaine Carey, Purdue University Northwest

Comment: The Audience

40. Implementing Authoritarianism: Overlooked Sectors under Latin America's Cold War Regimes

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: David M. K. Sheinin, Trent University

Outcast Officers: Political Persecution in the Brazilian Armed Forces in the Wake of the Military Coup, 1964–66
Marilia Correa, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Politicization, Repression, and National Health: The Brazilian Military Regime and the Medical Sector, 1964–85
Eyal Weinberg, University of Texas at Austin

No Longer a Laughing Matter: The Police, the Public, and the Tupamaros during the Uruguayan Dictatorship
Lindsey Churchill, University of Central Oklahoma

Excited State: How the Nuclear Sector Disciplined the Argentine Military Government, 1976–83
David M. K. Sheinin, Trent University

Comment: Heidi Tinsman, University of California, Irvine

41. The Politics of the Apolitical in Latin America: Nation, Youth, and Community, 1960–90

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Lillian Guerra, University of Florida

"My Body Is My Patria": Dancing Community and Nationhood in the 1960s Cuban Diaspora
Elizabeth Schwall, Northwestern University

"As Fair and as Objective as Possible": Choosing Mexican Candidates for US Scholarships in the 1970s–80s
Rachel Newman, Columbia University

Home Alone in Pinochet's Chile: Memories of Adolescence under Authoritarianism
Marian E. Schlotterbeck, University of California, Davis

The Politics of the Welfare State and Adoptions in Civil War Era Guatemala
Rachel Nolan, New York University

Comment: Lillian Guerra, University of Florida

42. Slavery and Gradual Emancipation in the Americas

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Erika Edwards, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

The Problem of Prejudice: Confronting Slavery's Bulwark in Early United States Emancipation

Paul J. Polgar, University of Mississippi

Liberta by Trade? Entanglements of Inheritance, Kinship, and Unfree Labor in Gradual Abolition Buenos Aires, 1820s–30s

Paulina Laura Alberto, University of Michigan

Abolitionist and Anti-Abolitionist Publics in Gradual Emancipation Colombia

Yesenia Barragan, Dartmouth College

Comment: David N. Gellman, DePauw University

43. New Perspectives on Puerto Rican Nationalism

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Antonio Sotomayor, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Panel:

Margaret M. Power, Illinois Institute of Technology

Michael Staudenmaier, Aurora University

Mónica Jiménez, University of Texas at Austin

Antonio Sotomayor, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Comment: The Audience

44. Water and Urban Power in 20th-Century Latin America (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 12

Chair: Mikael Wolfe, Stanford University

A New El Dorado: Watering a Transborder Boom Town, 1920–40

Hillar Schwertner, Georgetown University

Irrigating the Revolution: The Politics of Water in Bolivia's National Revolution, 1952–64

Sarah Hines, University of Maine at Machias

From Guarapiranga to Billings: Changes in São Paulo's Urban Water Supply, 1940–60

Douglas McRae, Georgetown University

Waste and Water: The Bogotá River in the History of the 20th Century

Stefania Gallini, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Comment: Mark Healey, University of Connecticut at Storrs

45. New Perspectives on the Ethnohistory of the Spanish Borderlands (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 10:30 AM-12:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 8

Chair: Mark G. Hanna, University of California, San Diego

War and Reducción in Colonial Mexico's Chichimecatlalli, 1590–1610

Dana Velasco Murillo, University of California, San Diego

Christian or Family Symbols? The Drawings on the Ceiling of Las Trampas Chapel, New Mexico

Danna Alexandra Levin-Rojo, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana–Azcapotzalco

The Pine Nut Trade in 17th-Century Mexico

Tatiana Seijas, Penn State University

The Nahuas and New Mexico

Travis Jeffres, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

Comment: Leslie S. Offutt, Vassar College

46. Tradition, Suspicion, and Inquisition: Catholic Anxieties of Portuguese Converso, Chino, and Nahua Heterodoxy in 17th-Century New Spain

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Ana Schaposchnik, DePaul University

The Politics behind the 1640s Trials Leading to the Gran Auto De Fé in 1649: Heterodoxy or Political Persecution?

Rafaela Acevedo-Field, Whitworth University

Evading the Inquisition and Feasting the Ancestors in the Colonial Spanish Philippines

Matthew J. Furlong, University of Arizona

Oninomauhtiaya (I Was Afraid): Hernando Ruiz De Alarcón's Campaign against Nahua Healing and Ritual Knowledge, 1612–29

Edward Anthony Polanco, University of Arizona

Comment: Ana Schaposchnik, DePaul University

47. Writing Colombian History after the 2016 Accord: Questions and Methods

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Joshua M. Rosenthal, Western Connecticut State University

Speaker(s):

Yesenia Barragan, Dartmouth College

Herbert Tico Braun, University of Virginia

Robert A. Karl, Princeton University

Mary Roldán, Hunter College, City University of New York

48. State Building and Transnational Indian Policies in the Americas, 1940–80 (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 9

Chair: Marc Becker, Truman State University

National Defense and the "Indian Problem": Examining US Involvement in the Inter-American Indian Institute, 1940–55

Raquel Escobar, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Redefining the "Indian Question": Transnational Indigenismo in Guatemala, 1940–60

Sarah Foss, Indiana University

Unanticipated Indigenista Legacies: Bilingual Teachers and the Rise of Dissident Trade Unionism in Southern Mexico, 1975–80

Alan Shane Dillingham, Spring Hill College

Comment: Stephen E. Lewis, California State University, Chico

49. Historical Perspectives on Sovereignty in the Americas (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 8

Chair: Karin A. Roseblatt, University of Maryland, College Park

Panel:

Seth Garfield, University of Texas at Austin

Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

Katherine Marino, Ohio State University

Christy Thornton, Harvard University

50. Revolutionaries, Refugees, and Smugglers: New Directions in Inter-American Exchanges during the Age of Revolution (joint with AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 1:30 PM-3:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 11

Chair: José Juan Pérez Meléndez, University of California, Davis

Inter-American Connections: Commercial Strategies in the Age of Atlantic Revolutions, 1790–1822

Fabricio Prado, College of William and Mary

Emiliano Mundrucu and the Sinews of Inter-American Abolitionism

Caitlin A. Fitz, Northwestern University

Shackles of Royalty: Monarchies, Republics, and Free Trade in the Age of Revolution

Tyson Reeder, University of Virginia

Comment: Jane Landers, Vanderbilt University

51. The Early Modern Iberian Empires in Global Perspective

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Alejandro Cañeque, University of Maryland, College Park

The Networks of Patronage in the Global Spanish Empire

Adolfo Polo y La Borda, University of Tübingen

How Global Was Early Modern Iberian Imperium?

Alexander Ponsen, University of Pennsylvania

The Spanish Monarchy in an Age of Commercial Globalization, 1765–96

Fidel Tavárez, University of Chicago

Imperial Cohesion and Ethnic Difference: Basques in the Early Modern Spanish Atlantic

Emma Otheguy, New York University

Comment: Frances L. Ramos, University of South Florida

52. Encountering Women in Development in 20th-Century Bolivia

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Laura Gotkowitz, University of Pittsburgh

Women Loan Makers in Early 20th-Century Bolivia: Capital, Gender, and Ethnicity in the Liberal Marketplace of La Paz

Nancy Egan, Universidad de Buenos Aires

Developing Women, Developing the Nation: Public Health and Human Capital in Postrevolutionary Bolivia

Nicole Pacino, University of Alabama in Huntsville

(Un)Cooperative Labor? Women's Work, Cooperatives, and the Foundations of Austerity in Bolivia

Elena McGrath, University of Virginia

Inca Princesses with Tanned Skin: Constructing the New Bolivian Entrepreneurs

Molly Geidel, University of Manchester

Comment: The Audience

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

53. Rethinking South America: Transitions in diplomacy, foreign policies and left wing movements (1940-1980)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Fernanda Lima Rabelo, University College Cork

Debt, Development, and Human Rights: The North-South Dialogue in Latin America, 1974–82

Michael Franczak, Boston College

Good Neighbors, Family, or Business Partners in a Time of War? An Analysis of Good Neighbor Diplomacy through Short Films Produced by the Office of the Coordinator of the Inter-American Affairs in the 1940s

Fernanda Lima Rabelo, University College Cork

Making Better Neighbors: Serafino Romualdi's Quest for Transnational Anti-Fascist Networks in South America during World War II

Pedro M. Cameselle, Western Washington University

From 1960s Indigenism to 1970s Marxist Leninism: Argentina's Frente Indoamericano Revolucionario Popular and Ejército Revolucionario del Pueblo

Jennifer L. Schaefer, Washington State University

Comment: The Audience

54. Assessing the State from the Peripheries: The Construction of Governance in 19th-Century Latin America (joint with the AHA)

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 3:30 PM-5:00 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 10

Chair: Carlos Dimas, Albright College

"The Peruvian Revolution": History and Memory of Túpac Amaru in the Construction of a National Discourse: A View from Cuzco, 1837–39

Cecilia Méndez, University of California, Santa Barbara

Standardizing the Brazilian Nation in the 19th Century

Anne G. Hanley, Northern Illinois University

Building the State from the Outside: The 1868 Cholera Epidemic and Health Networks in Northwestern Argentina
Carlos Dimas, Albright College

Breaking Codes: Local Enactment of Civil and Commercial Codes in Mexico
Casey M. Lurtz, Johns Hopkins University

Comment: Robert H Holden, Old Dominion University

Hispanic American Historical Review Editorial Board Meeting

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Park Tower 8216

Atlantic World Studies Committee Meeting

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taft Room

Chair: David Wheat, Michigan State University

The Dutch in the Atlantic: The View from the Rio de la Plata, 1648–78
David Freeman, University of Missouri–Kansas City

“He Seemed Like a Slave”: Kidnapping and Labor Coercion in the Early 17th-Century Caribbean
Casey Schmitt, College of William and Mary

Facing the Atlantic: Autonomous Indians in Colonial Brazil
Heather Flynn Roller, Colgate University

Je Brûle Ma Nation: Royalism and Rayanos in the Borderlands of Hispaniola
Jesús Ruiz, Tulane University

Comment: The Audience

55. Andean Studies Committee Meeting: The Andes and the Pacific World

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Taylor Room

Chair: Tamara J. Walker, University of Toronto

Speaker(s):

Sherwin K. Bryant, Northwestern University
Rachel O'Toole, University of California, Irvine
Tamara J. Walker, University of Toronto

56. Borderlands and Frontier Studies Committee Meeting: Borderlands and Border-Crossing Histories on Land and at Sea

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Truman Room

Chair: Samuel Truett, University of New Mexico

Speaker(s):

Andrés Resendez, University of California, Davis
Lara E. Putnam, University of Pittsburgh
Kelly Lytle Hernandez, University of California, Los Angeles
Alice Baumgartner, Yale University
Judy Bieber, University of New Mexico
Kristin Wintersteen, University of Houston

57. Mexican Studies Committee Meeting: How Atlantic/Pacific Is Ethnohistory?

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Tyler Room

Chair: Dana Velasco Murillo, University of California, San Diego

Inserting Native Peoples in the Atlantic/Pacific Narrative

Dana Velasco Murillo, University of California, San Diego

Negros e Indios: The Intersection of Ethnohistory and Atlantic History

Robert C. Schwaller, University of Kansas

The Californias: Rethinking Indigenous Trade Networks along the Pacific Coast

Tatiana Seijas, Penn State University

Old World Roots, New World Shoots: A Transatlantic Understanding of Indigenous Religion in Colonial Mexico

Mark Z. Christensen, Assumption College

The Atlantic and Colonial Mexico City

Margarita R. Ochoa, Loyola Marymount University

Atlantic Mayas: Yucatan in Transatlantic Perspective

Mark Lentz, Utah Valley University

CLAH Cocktail Reception

Saturday, January 6, 2018: 7:30 PM-9:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

58. Urbanization, Mobility, and Modernization in the 20th Century

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Chair: Catalina Muñoz, Universidad de los Andes

Memory and the Contentious Politics of Urban Development in Bogotá, Colombia

Catalina Muñoz, Universidad de los Andes

For a More Just City: The Santiago Metro in Allende's Chile

Andra Brosy Chastain, Yale University

Manliness and Mestizo Nationalism in the Forging of a Charro-Mexican State Relationship, 1920–50

Angélica Castillo Reyna, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Self-Service Modernity: Shopping Practices and Cultural Politics in Cold War Medellín

William Demarest, State University of New York at Stony Brook

Comment: The Audience

59. Conquest, Communal Rights, and Population in Colonial Latin America

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Juan José Ponce-Vázquez, University of Alabama

Interethnic Conflict and Negotiation in Colonial Gobernación of Popayán in the 16th Century

Lauri Uusitalo, University of Tampere

To Save the Island or to Ruin It: Revisiting the Depopulation of Hispaniola, 1605

Juan José Ponce-Vázquez, University of Alabama

The Indian Letrados, the Cabildo, and the Defense of Communal Lands at the Sunset of Colonialism in the Andes

Alcira Dueñas, Ohio State University

Categories and Constructions of Race in 18th-Century Oaxaca, 1750–1800

Sabrina Smith, University of California, Los Angeles

Comment: The Audience

60. Slavery and Emancipation

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Thurgood Marshall South

Chair: Luis Martinez-Fernandez, University of Central Florida

Slavery, Race, Nation, and Prison-Building in Postcolonial Brazil

Martine Jean, University of South Carolina

Caring Slaves and Precarious Masters: Codependence, Generational Contracts, and Inheritance in 19th-Century Brazil

Henrique Espada Lima, Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina

Slaves' Inheritance

Nilce Wicks, University of California, Los Angeles

Deceivingly Sweet: Sugar, Slavery, and Slave Resistance in Early Colonial Cuba

Luis Martinez-Fernandez, University of Central Florida

Comment: The Audience

61. Historical Perspectives on Contemporary Paradiplomacy: The International Venturing of Subnational Governments in the Caribbean with Focus on Puerto Rico's Experience (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room A

Co-Sponsor(s): Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations

Chair: Abraham F. Lowenthal, University of Southern California

Puerto Rico's Paradiplomacy at the End of the 20th Century: Between Pragmatism and Identity Showcasing

Raymond Laureano-Ortiz, Centro de Estudios Avanzados de Puerto Rico y el Caribe

Puerto Rican Paradiplomacy during the New Deal: The Information and Research Division of the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration

Geoff Burrows, independent scholar

De Puerto Rico para el Mundo: Preparing for the Quincentenary Celebrations, 1985–92

Joanna Marie Camacho Escobar, Miami University Ohio

Comments with Personal Insights into Puerto Rican Paradiplomacy in the UN Circuit

Julio A. Ortiz Luquis, Brooklyn College, City University of New York

Comments with Personal Paradiplomatic Insights into Puerto Rico's Caribbean Development Program in the '90s

David E. Lewis, Manchester Trade

Comments with Personal Insights into Paradiplomacy in the US and French Caribbean

Jean Yves Lacascade, independent scholar

62. Creating and Imagining a Unified Spanish Empire in the Early 18th Century: Views from the American Viceroyalties

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Madison Room B

Chair: Fabricio Prado, College of William and Mary

News, War, and a Contested Succession: Official and Extra-Official Sources of Information in New Spain, 1701–14
Frances L. Ramos, University of South Florida

Militarizing the Empire: The 18th-Century Spanish Convict Labor System in the Circum-Caribbean
Jesse Cromwell, University of Mississippi

Circulation of Popular Normative Literature in Spanish America, c. 1650–1750
Otto Danwerth, Max-Planck-Institut für Europäische Rechtsgeschichte

A Witches' Sabbath, Gossip, and Transatlantic Communications in New Granada, c. 1715
Francisco A. Eissa-Barroso, University of Manchester

Comment: Christoph Rosenmüller, Middle Tennessee State University

63. Caribbean Circulations: Race, Nation, and Citizenship in Cuba, 1890–1980 (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland Suite C

Chair: Michele Reid-Vazquez, University of Pittsburgh

William George Emanuel and the Politics of Belonging in the Atlantic World
Philip Janzen, University of Wisconsin–Madison

Black Missions in Cuba: Tracing Diaspora and Nation through Biography and Religious History
Christina Cecelia Davidson, Duke University

“On Not Becoming Cuban”: “African” Immigrants in Early 20th-Century Cuba
Dalia A. Muller, State University of New York at Buffalo

Race, Coercive Complicity, and Political Nobodies in the Cuban Revolution, 1971–81
Lillian Guerra, University of Florida

Comment: Michele Reid-Vazquez, University of Pittsburgh

65. Matters of State, Matters of Dispute: Collecting and Display in 19th- and 20th-Century Mexico (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland Suite B

Chair: Susan Deans-Smith, University of Texas at Austin

Antiquities: Paper Collections and the Making of Mexico's Ancient Past
Miruna Achim, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana

Bones: Pelvises, Skulls, and Measurement Remains at the National Museum
Laura Cházaro, Cinvestav

Animals, Plants, and Ruins: Colonial Articulations of the Museo Nacional de México
Frida Gorbach, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana

Mannequins, Dancers, and Relics: Differentiation and Racism in the Ethnographic Exhibition Halls of the Museo Nacional de Antropología of Mexico
Mario Rufer, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana

66. Nation-Making beyond Slavery: The United States and the Transformation of 19th-Century Brazil (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM, Marriott Wardman Park, Virginia Suite A

Chair: Peter M. Beattie, Michigan State University

Papers:

Progressive Wests in 19th-Century Brazil and the US: Tavares Bastos's O Vale do Amazonas and Powell's Report on the Lands of the Arid Region

Teresa Cribelli, University of Alabama

Hemispheric Connections: The American Civil War and Afro-Brazilian Geopolitical Imagination

Isadora Moura Mota, University of Miami

Anti-Tocqueville Counterpoints: The Brazilian Empire Ponders Population Controls in the United States

José Juan Pérez Meléndez, University of California, Davis

The Yankees and the Fazendeiros: The Role of American Technology and Applied Sciences in the Process of Slave Emancipation in São Paulo, Brazil

Roberto Saba, University of Pennsylvania

Comment: Peter M. Beattie, Michigan State University

67. Creando Cubanos: Cuban Educational Systems in the 19th and 20th Centuries (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland Suite A

Chair: Louis A. Perez, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Constructing the Citizen: The Public Uses of History and Civics in Cuban Schools, 1899–1920

Yoel Cordoví Núñez, Instituto de Historia de Cuba

Race, Gender, and Socially Appropriate Education in US-Occupied Cuba

Bonnie A. Lucero, Tulane University

School Segregation in 19th-Century Cuba

Raquel Alicia Otheguy, Quinnipiac University

The "Liberal Moment" of the Revolution Early Educational Reforms in Revolutionary Cuba

Rainer Schultz, Harvard University

Comment: Andrew J. Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

68. Global Crisis and International Organization in the Americas

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland Suite B

Chair: Patrick William Kelly, Northwestern University

An Inter-American New Deal? The Global Depression and Latin American Economic Diplomacy

Teresa Davis, Princeton University

Shaking the Invisible Hand: Oil Nationalization and Mexico's "United Front" before the Cold War

Gregory Malandrucchio, University of Ontario Institute of Technology and Trent University

Working Together for "The Redemption of Mankind": Mexico, the Americas, and the World in the Postwar Moment

Ashley Black, Stony Brook University

Jorge Eliécer Gaitán, El Bogotazo, and the Development of the Organization of American States, 1946–48

Stefano Tijerina, University of Maine

Comment: Patrick William Kelly, Northwestern University

69. Rethinking the Left in 20th-Century Latin America (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Marriott Wardman Park, Delaware Suite A

Chair: Kevin Young, University of Massachusetts Amherst

Common Ground: Caciques, Artisans, and Radical Intellectuals and the 1927 Chayanta Rebellion
Forrest Hylton, Northwestern University

Indigenous Movements in the Eye of the Hurricane Marc Becker, Truman State University

"For the Dignification of Women": Cuba and the 1959 Congress of Latin American Women in Santiago de Chile
Michelle Chase, Pace University

"Agents of Disruption and Social Dissolution": Oppositional Activism in Guerrero, Mexico
O'Neill Blacker-Hanson, University of New Mexico

Mayas in Revolution
Betsy O. Konefal, College of William and Mary

We Struggled for a Common Good: Urban-Rural Alliances on the Salvadoran Left, 1970–80
Kevin Young, University of Massachusetts Amherst

Comment: Margaret Power, Illinois Institute of Technology

70. Rethinking "Race" in the Spanish Atlantic: Shaping Imperial Laws and Defining Categories of Difference, Belonging, Royal Vassalage, and Religious Lineage (joint with AHA)

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 11:00 AM-12:30 PM, Washington Hilton, Columbia 9

Chair: José Carlos de la Puente, Texas State University

Mestizos, Moriscos, and the 16th-Century Dialogue around Christian Subjecthood in the Spanish Empire
Max Deardorff, Max Planck Institute for European Legal History

Loyal Royal Vassals: Black Vecinos and the Castilian Crown in the Early Hispanic Atlantic
Chloe Ireton, University of Texas at Austin

Old Christian Moriscos in Early Modern Castile
Stephanie M. Cavanaugh, McGill University

Subjecthood on Trial in Colonial Spanish America
Robert C. Schwaller, University of Kansas

Comment: The Audience